Starter Kit Career Development Resource Repository for STEM and Humanities Professionals

02:00 PM - 03:00 PM EST

We will present the Career Development Resource Repository, a repository of resources submitted by GCC members and curated by the Professional Development Committee (PDC) to support the professional development of GCC members at any career stage. Resources include foundational articles, academic research, and professional development books that are useful for professionals seeking to enter or grow in the discipline of graduate student and postdoc professional development. This webinar will provide an overview of the resource repository, instruction on how to navigate the database, and an activity designed to teach attendees how to navigate the repository.
